Jane Smith started making hats for theatre
and film in 1968, and works in felt, straw, buckram, plastic and fabric in her London studio. Her more hats can be seen in the such films as The Duchess, Sweeney Todd, Harry Potter, Jane Eyre, Great Expectations,
The Invisible Woman, Pan, The Iron Lady and 47 Ronin. She is currently working on the new Mary Poppins.

Fullerton College Presents 3 Millinery Workshops with Jane Smith

Workshop 1

Tricorns and Bicorns

In this three day master class, you will learn about the history of tricorns and bicorns and how they were created in the 18th and 19th centuries. Jane will demonstrate using traditional hat making techniques, how to create both the bicorn and tricorn today. You will then block one of your hats using fur felt and create the other with buckrum and plush. The class includes all of your supplies and tools for creating 2 hats, (a tricorn and a bicorn) along with your lunch each day.

August 4, 5, 6, 2017

9:30 AM-4:30 PM $450.00

Workshop 2

Wire Frame -1900 thru 1920's
Using millinery wire and lace or sheer fabric, you will create at least one Edwardian/Teens/1920's hat similar to hats seen in the movies "Cheri", "Titanic", "Howard's End" and "Enchanted April". The workshop includes your supplies for 2 wire framed hats covered with silk organza or lace and lunch each day. You may also bring 2 yards of an outer fabric of your choice. A basic sewing kit will be needed. (shears, pins, tape measure, thimble, tailor's chalk)
